SUBJECT: Request for support evaluating the current status in mobile forensics

Dear FORMOBILE Project Partners,

Within the FORMOBILE project all partners work on creating and establishing a complete end to end forensic investigation chain, targeting for mobile devices. Work packages of the project include the developments of a new forensic standard, the creation of new forensic tools and the establishment of a training for police and criminal prosecution to provide the end users with the latest knowledge in a novel and an innovative curriculum to ensure a european-wide quality standard of forensic investigations of mobile phones.

In Work Package 1, which is led by ZITiS, the current status of mobile forensics should be evaluated to define the specification of the end user requirements. For this purpose, we have designed a questionnaire that should capture the current status and form the basis for the further results of the other Work Packages.

To ensure working on reliable data we would like to ask you to distribute the questionnaire within your organization to all those who are involved in the mobile forensic process – from the on-site first responder to the highly specialized forensic laboratories.

Thank you very much for your support!

Best regards,

Wilfried Karl
